MARIAN UNIVERSITY

Greetings Marian University community,

We have been blessed with another tremendous year at Marian University. This fall, we welcomed more than 1,000 new undergraduate and graduate students to campus, including a record-breaking (first-time, full-time) freshman class from 18 states and seven nations (up 25 percent over last year).

Most importantly, this is the most academically prepared class we've ever welcomed, as measured by community and high school honors, average GPAs, and SAT scores. This diverse group of students (26 percent minority status) are sure to be transformational leaders in businesses, healthcare, our schools, non-profits, the Church, and our communities at-large.

Over the last year, we acquired more than $24 million in new financial commitments from alumni, parents, friends, trustees, foundations, and corporations, allowing us to support our students through scholarships, expand our academic programs, and enhance facilities. Students now fill the state-of-the-art classrooms and collaborative spaces in the Paul J. Norman Center, home of the Byrum School of Business; fuel their bodies in the new Dining Commons; and train in our new Drew Family Health and Fitness Center.

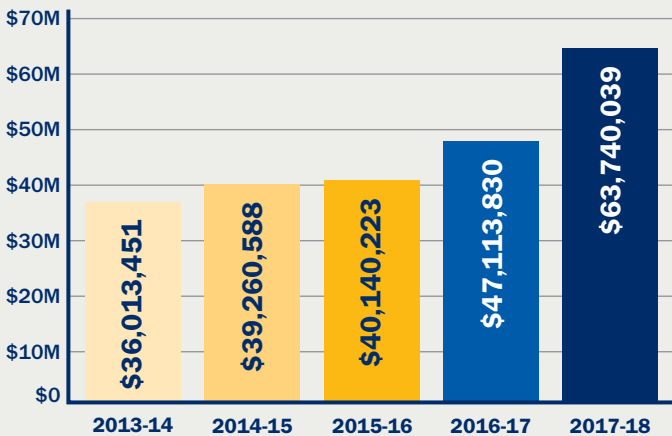

We want to continue on an upward trajectory that stays true to our mission and vision. Building on our incredible success over the last year, this fall we embarked on Marian University's next great venture—our dynamic two-year college—which will be named Saint Joseph's College of Marian University—Indianapolis through a mission collaboration with our friends at Saint Joseph's College.

Perhaps the most innovative feature of the two-year college is the employer partnerships that are being established to help students make connections between learning and earning. Marian University faculty will work closely with specific central Indiana employers to ensure that students of the two-year college will be able to recognize connections between what they are learning in the classroom and their future jobs. This two-year college, along with our continuing march toward making the Fred S. Klipsch Educators College a nationally prominent program, the Latin@ Initiative, and more, make for remarkably exciting times on our beautiful campus and in the communities we serve.

Our announcement of the Forging Leaders initiative last year called for an ambitious agenda for the next decade, and we are making tremendous strides in the investments that will be required to meet those goals. Thank you in advance for your support in the next leg of this vision-, mission-, and values-driven journey of building a great Catholic university in this great American city. It is by forging ahead in our vision of shaping transformational leaders for service to the world that we create and honor the legacy we are made for!

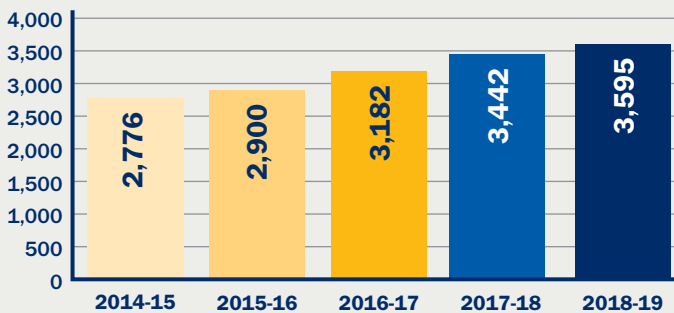

Sincerely,

Daniel J. Elsener
President

MARIAN UNIVERSITY FORGING LEADERS

the legacy we're made for

Last year, we publicly announced our Forging Leaders initiative. Here's a look at how the initiative breaks down, the great strides we've made towards our goal, and the progress we are yet to make.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND GROWING THE ENDOWMENT

Our mission calls us to provide educational opportunities to a diverse and academically talented student body. Without substantial financial aid, a college education would be unavailable to these very students who enrich our campus community. In the last year we:

- Added several endowed scholarships to support student success.
- Announced the Judy L. Klipsch Angel Educators Scholarship to support disadvantaged students who want to become educators.

SISTERS' LEGACY FUND

In 1937, the Sisters of St. Francis, Oldenburg, Indiana, courageously responded to the needs of the time and founded Marian University. Their selflessness in service continues to allow countless students to learn, lead, and serve. Last year we:

- Began to raise funds towards the Sisters' retirement.
- Honored the Sisters for their sacrifice, commitment, and impact on generations of students at the Courage to Venture Gala.

For more information, contact John Finke, vice president for institutional advancement, at jfinke@marian.edu or 317.955.6202.

TOTAL RAISED: $109.7 MILLION

2021 GOAL: $150 MILLION

Progress as of November 30, 2018

ENHANCE FACILITIES

With record enrollment, we need to enhance and build facilities that will support our growing student body. In the last year we:

- Opened the Paul J. Norman Center.
- Opened the Dining Commons.
- Opened the Peyton Manning Children's Hospital Hall of Champions.

SPECIAL INITIATIVES

From addressing the teacher shortage, to advancing healthcare programs, to increasing access to higher education, Marian University has been called to respond to the needs of the time since its inception. Over the last year, we've focused on these special initiatives:

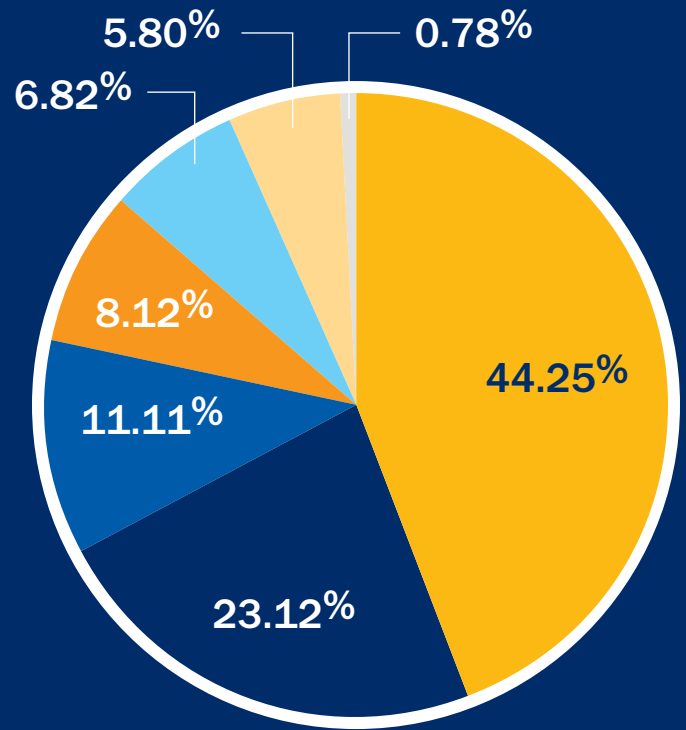

- Saint Joseph's College of Marian University—Indianapolis
- Fred S. Klipsch Educators College
- Walker Center for Applied Ethics
- STEHM
- Latin@ Initiative

Celebrating Athletics

On April 24, 2018, more than 500 leaders in the Indianapolis and surrounding area, Marian University alumni and students, new friends, and long-time supporters of Marian University gathered at the Biltwell Event Center for the 2018 Clayton Family Circle of Honor Induction Dinner.

The annual dinner celebrates Marian University athletics and honors those inducted into the Clayton Family Circle of Honor. This year's honorees included the late physician, coach, and educator Kevin Rodgers, M.D., and racecar driver and Indianapolis 500 legend Hélio Castroneves. Here are a few highlights from this special event.

DONOR PROFILE

FRED AND JUDY KLIPSCH

Fred and Judy Klipsch have long been passionate about improving K-12 education, and after noticing the steps Marian University was taking to produce better teachers and leaders, they decided to invest in the university last fall.

“Marian University achieved success with the second-ever medical school in Indiana. Now they are executing a state-of-the-art approach to training teachers,” Fred, member of the Board of Trustees and former owner of Indianapolis-based Klipsch Audio Technologies, said.

Students in the Fred S. Klipsch Educators College are preparing to become effective teachers through an innovative curriculum, placing them in the classroom their very first semester in the college.

“Teachers are either going to be part of the problem, or they are going to be part of the solution as education changes,” Judy said. “My teachers were my angels. I looked up to my teachers in a way that inspired me to not quit.”

Fred and Judy's commitment last fall also established the Judy L. Klipsch Angel Educators Scholarship to support disadvantaged students who want to become educators.

Thank you, Fred and Judy, for partnering with Marian University to impact education in the state of Indiana and beyond.

DONOR PROFILE

MAXX HAGAN '14

"I feel very fortunate to have received the scholarships that I did. I know without them, I wouldn't have been able to study at Marian University," Maxx Hagan '14 said.

As a student, Maxx was a recipient of the Welch-Strom Endowed Scholarship and the San Damiano Scholarship for Church Leadership.

"As much as I can repay those gifts to the next person that wants to come to Marian, I will. It is a big driver of my giving to the university," Maxx said.

Maxx is chair of Graduates of the Last Decade (GOLD), a special group of the Marian University Alumni Association dedicated to young alumni. Maxx encourages members of GOLD to give in any way they can and reminds them that a gift, no matter the amount, makes a difference.

"I really loved my time at Marian, and I want to see the school become as successful as possible," Maxx said.

Thank you, Maxx, for the leadership and incredible generosity you have shown to your alma mater.

DONOR PROFILE

KATHLEEN DIENER BOLAND '62

Kathleen Diener Boland '62 has given to Marian University consistently over the years, watching the university expand programs, build facilities, and reach record enrollment.

“Under the leadership of the present administration, Marian University can only grow,” Kathleen said.

Kathleen added that she also gives in memory of Sister Miriam Clare Heskamp, OSF, who served as professor of home economics at Marian University for 18 years. After graduating from Marian University with a degree in home economics, Kathleen held a fulfilling career as a clinical dietitian.

“I give to Marian University so they can continue to provide an exceptional education,” Kathleen said.

Thank you, Kathleen, for your annual and faithful contributions, ensuring Marian University is a place where students flourish.

DONOR PROFILE

ALICE AND JOHN SHELTON

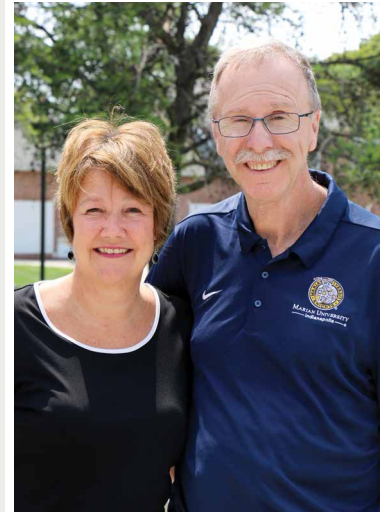

“Marian University used to be known as Indianapolis’ best kept secret. We’re not a secret anymore. We have grown on every level. We are proud to have been active players in that,” John Shelton, former director of financial aid, campus minister, and men’s golf coach who retired from Marian University in 2018, said.

John and his wife Alice, director of business services at Marian University, have devoted over 60 years of combined service to the university.

“I really believe we build people here, and that’s why I stay. I am committed to it,” Alice said.

John and Alice encourage others to see Marian University not only as a place for students to receive an education, but also a place for students to grow in their faith, serve the community, and become leaders.

Thank you, Alice and John, for your years of dedication and commitment to the growth of Marian University.

Heritage of Saint Francis Society

The Heritage of Saint Francis Society comprises alumni, friends, and supporters of Marian University who have made deferred gifts to the school. Like theirs, your shared gift may be used to help establish an endowment fund or scholarship, or to create a permanent memorial by naming a classroom, building, or other capital asset.

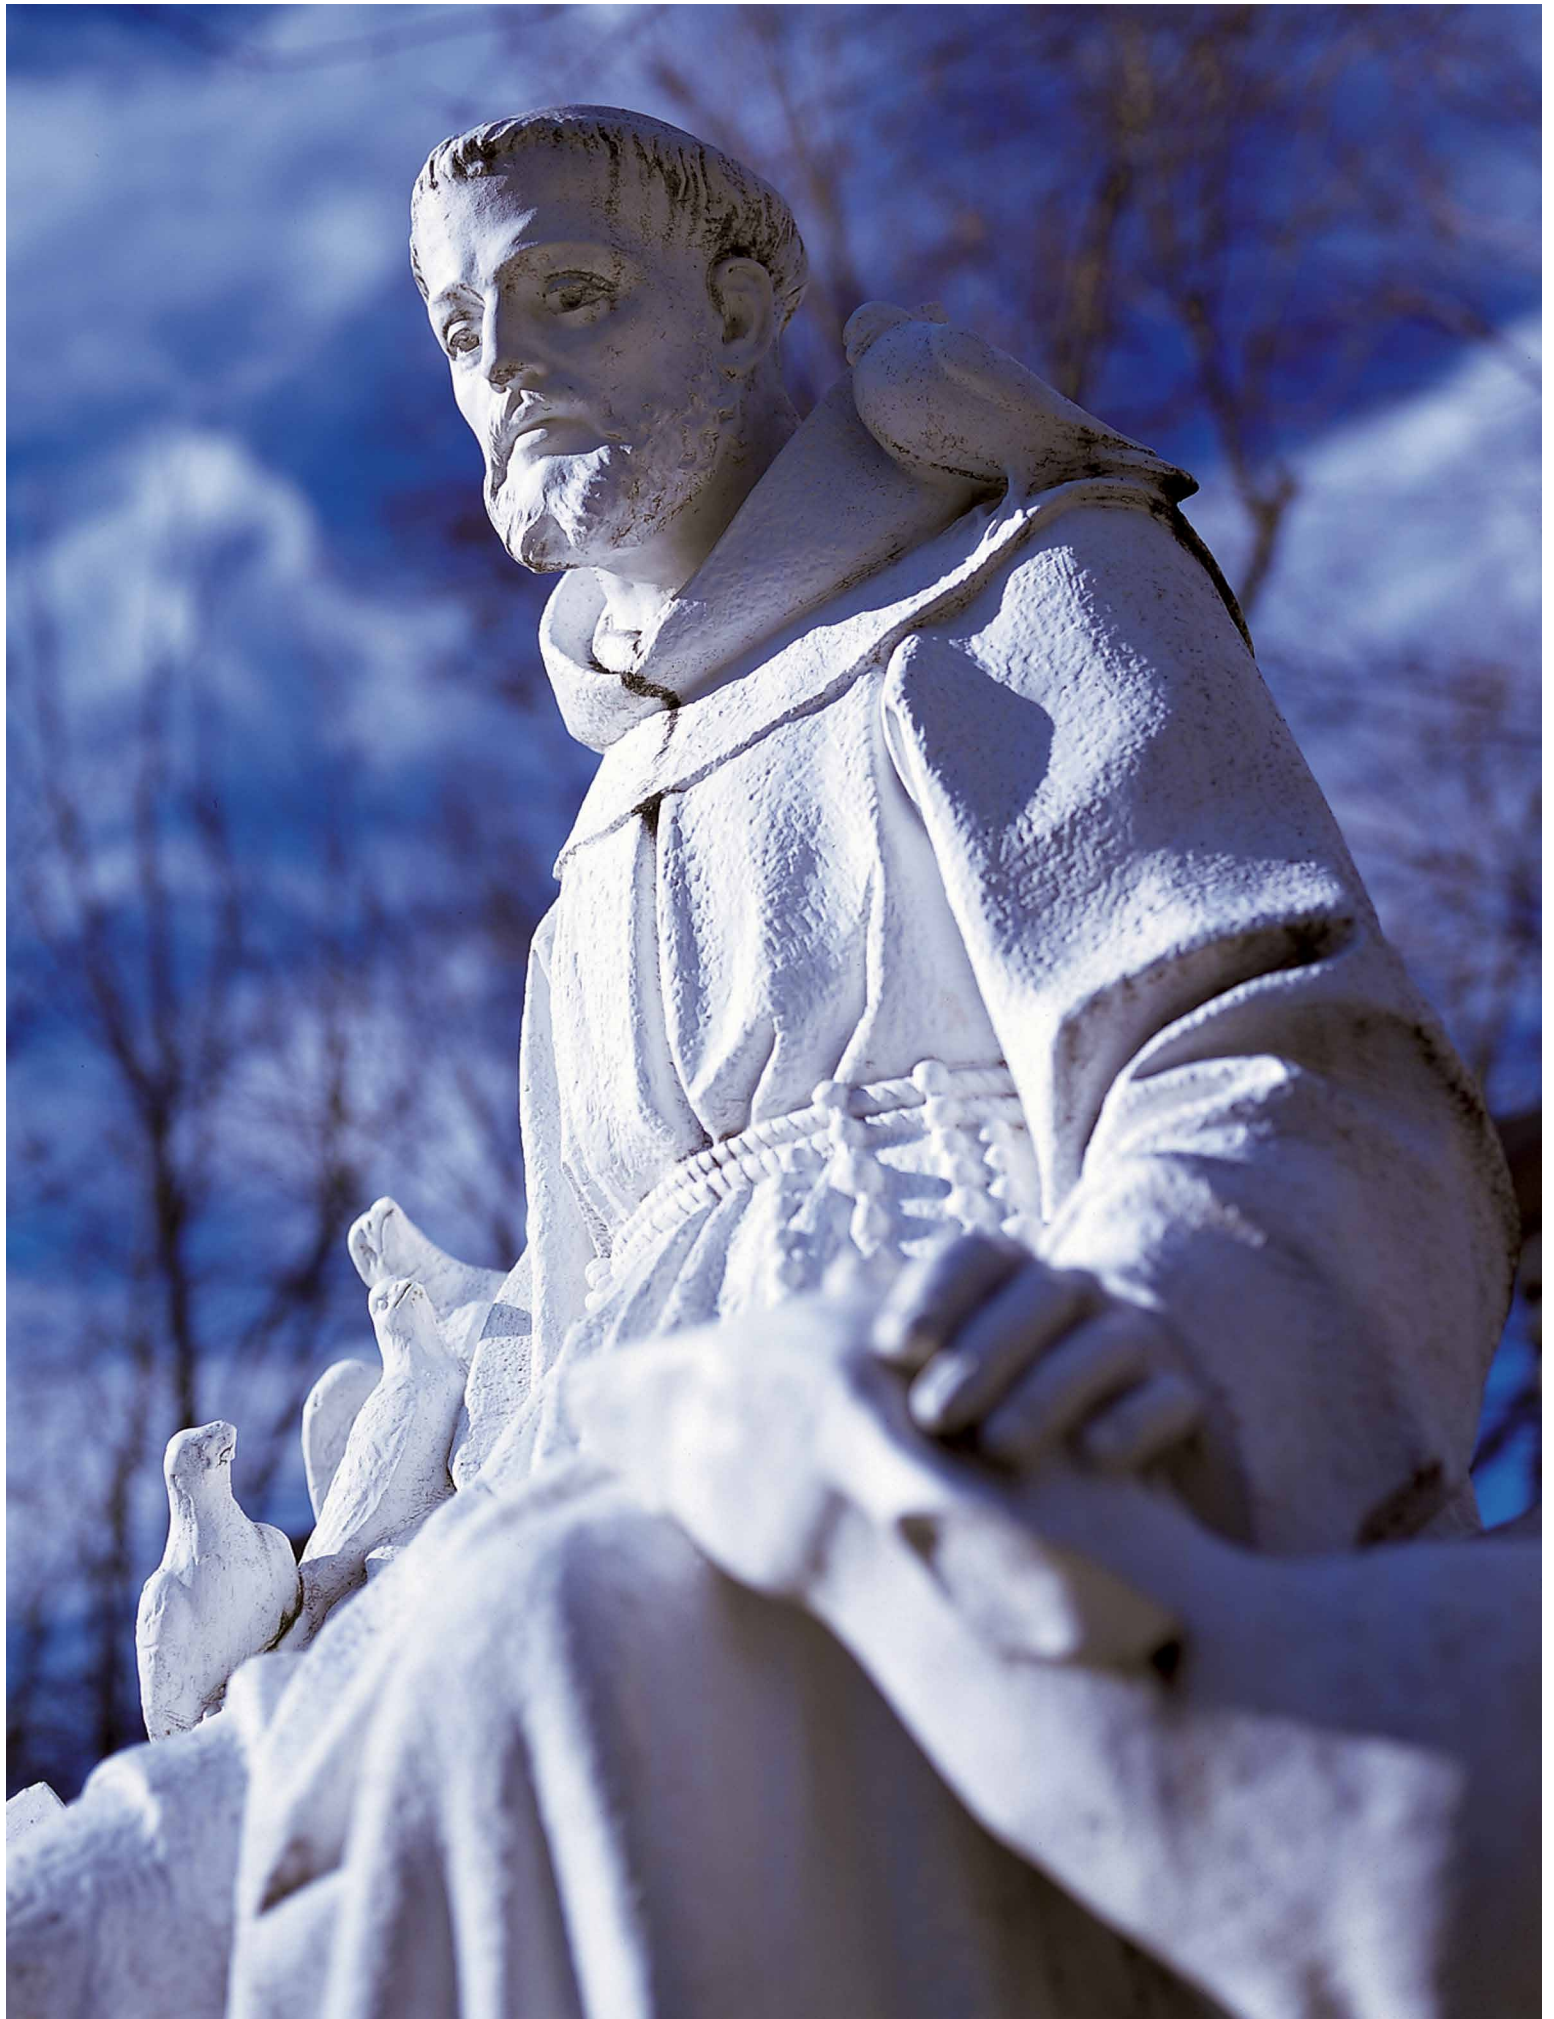

Thank you to the current members of the Heritage of Saint Francis Society listed below.
